1. The airfield was southwest of Mukachevo (48-26N, 22-43E), Ukrainian SSR, just east of a SW arterial road, south of the Mukachevo railroad station.
2. It was inferred from the flying activity that the field was occupied by single-engine and multi-engine aircraft.
3. Three four-story barracks buildings, each 20 x 40 meters, north of the Mukachevo railroad station, were occupied to capacity by air troops.
4. Flying was usually very intensive at the airfield east of the Mukachevo-Varalya road. The heaviest occupation was observed in the Fall of 1948, when more than 100 fighters were at the field.

Comment :

The information on location and condition of the airfield agrees with previous observations. It is assumed that a fighter unit was stationed at the field until the last period of observation.
